FRANK HOLLAND MUST GO TO JAIL

Supreme Court Refuses to Interfere With Liquor Sale Conviction—Smith Appeal Refused.

For the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors in Northampton County, Frank Holland must serve a term of thirty days in the county jail, unless the Governor intercedes, and must also pay fines aggregating $450 and costs. The Supreme Court of Appeals yesterday refused a writ of error in the case, the judgment of the Circuit Court of Northampton County being sustained.

The Supreme Court also refused a writ of error in the case of Willis B. Smith against the Southern Railway Company, the judgment of the Law and Equity Court of the city of Richmond for the defendant railway company being affirmed. Mr. Smith was employed as an attorney by the Pullman Company and other parties in certain litigation in the Federal courts growing out of the receivership of the Richmond and Danville Railway in 1892. He claimed that he was further engaged in effecting a settlement with C. H. Coster, of Drexel, Morgan & Co., and in other services for the newly formed Southern Railway Company. For this he was paid $6,000 by the organization; however, Mr. Smith claimed that the Colonel Henderson, assistant general counsel for the Southern, agreed to a total of $1,000 for three years' work, but the amount was never paid. In the jury to find for the defendant company, which action the Supreme Court sustains.

DR. W. T. OPPENHIMER CITY SERGEANT GOT NEW C. & O. SURGEON $7,795 LAST YEAR

Censors Don't Approve It, but Admit It's Not Obscene, Lewd or Indecent.

BIG CROWD AT THE MATINEE

Mayor Declines to Interfere After Committee Took Vote on Resolution.

Advised by his censoring committee and by the Chief of Police that the much-advertised motion picture, "Traffic in Souls," contained nothing "obscene, lewd or indecent," Mayor Ainslie declined yesterday to interfere with the presentation of the picture throughout the rest of the week at the Academy of Music.

The Mayor had received a number of communications calling attention to the nature of the picture and referring to the fact that its exhibition had been temporarily prohibited in Washington, and in order to assure himself of the propriety of permitting its display in Richmond, he appointed a committee of seven men and women to view the first performance yesterday and advise him "whether the film was a proper one to be permitted to be shown in Richmond."

Efforts were made by the local management to hold a private view of the film yesterday morning, but, owing to the inaction of the operators to arrive in Richmond before the hour set for the afternoon performance, the committee was forced to content itself with witnessing the regular matinee at 3 o'clock, when the theatre was crowded by a very large and curious audience, in which women greatly predominated.

Censors Watch It Closely.

During the two hours of the performance, the members of the committee were closely attentive, following every detail of the very frank melodrama supposedly based upon the "white slave traffic," with the result that confusion reigned over its subsequent deliberations. Immediately after the conclusion of the exhibition, the members of the committee gathered in the lobby of the theatre, where they were promptly joined and surrounded by the interested or merely curious on-lookers, only those most interested, Mr. Wells, Mr. Neil and Mrs. Wise, remaining to discuss the picture.

At first, it seemed that there was little objection to the picture from the committee at large, but as Mayor Werner began to check the list of his associates, objections multiplied or grew audible. Confusion increased until neither the Chief nor any member of the committee knew what any of the members thought about the performance or its propriety. Finally, Dr. Douglas S. Freeman requested the committee to enter the theatre and come to some semblance of order, as the members filed into the space back of the orchestra rail. With the exception of Miss Sarah Roller and Dr. B. H. Melton, neither of whom was able to attend, the whole committee appointed by the Mayor was then assembled.

Dr. Freeman, because he was seated on the program table, acted as informal chairman, and Douglas Gordon, dramatic critic of the Times-Dispatch, recorded the several ballots—because he had a piece of paper.

How They Voted.

Out in the hall, a disjunct, uncertain sort of poll had resulted in general confusion, so that we determined to proceed with some formality, and the roll was called, but without any definite announcement as to the question which was being voted upon. Those voting "for" were Mrs. A. A. Burrows, Douglas Gordon, Jay Lewis, dramatic critic of the News Leader; Mrs. S. W. Meek, Henry W. Rountree, and Taylor Robertson, dramatic critic of the Evening Journal. Voting "against" were Dr. Freeman, Robert Glass, of the Richmond Virginian; Rev. Father Charles Hannigan; Mrs. J. Tyler Johnson, Miss Nannie Minor, Dr. J. T. Mastin, Dr. H. D. C. MacLachlan, and Mrs. W. G. Standard—6 "for" and 5 "against."

Then the members of the committee began to explain why they had cast their ballots as indicated. Dr. Freeman, speaking on behalf of the Juvenile Protective Association, said that, while he saw nothing indecent in the picture, it was undeniably brought to the attention of youths of both sexes matters which it was better for them to remain ignorant of, and that he and his associates believed that the presentation of such scenes and incidents could do no possible good, and might result in much harm.

In this view he was sustained by Father Hannigan, who further stated that the picture was vulgar, indecent, and by Dr. MacLachlan, who stated that it was not a subject for discussion or presentation before a juvenile mind. Dr. Mastin took the same view, and protested against the stirring up of such questions in public. Mr. Standard asked if it would be possible to limit the attendance to those over, say, sixteen.

Sees Where It Can Do Good.

Mr. Rountree, on the other hand, declaring that the picture in strong terms, of working untold good in any community by exposing the snares and pitfalls into which in great numbers of our youth are falling. He stated that he had voted in favor of allowing the picture to be shown, since it contained in his opinion nothing obscene or indecent, he did not think that the police or the Mayor had any right to prohibit it.

That started another round of argument, which resulted in the taking of another ballot, the question being: "Whether or not this film contains any features that are obscene, lewd or indecent." Again the roll was called, and this time the committee was unanimous, every member, including the Chief of Police, voting "against."

But a majority of the committee was not satisfied with the bare announcement to the Mayor that the picture contained none of these features. The Mayor's letter was produced and he was advised whether or not the picture was a proper one to be permitted to be shown in Richmond.

More Discussion, More Voting.

Again discussion ensued and another ballot followed, the question being a paraphrase of the question just quoted from the Mayor's letter. "Not a member of the committee changed his vote, and the result was the same as that of the first ballot—eight voting "Aye" and six voting "Nay."

Armed with the various results of the committee's deliberations, the Chief of Police hastened to the Mayor, who immediately decided that the picture did not contain anything "obscene, lewd or indecent," he had no legal authority to prevent its exhibition, and so informed the chief, whereupon the management of the Academy of Music was notified and went to work selling tickets with both hands for the night performance.

In the third column of this paper will be found a review of the performance.

Appointed to Succeed Dr. Brock, Who Retires After Service of Thirty Years.

DR. W. T. OPPENHIMER

The appointment of Dr. William T. Oppenheimer as chief surgeon of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, was announced yesterday in a circular issued by General Manager George P. Johnson, under date of December 31. The appointment was effective on January 1.

DR. W. T. OPPENHIMER.

The appointment of Dr. William T. Oppenheimer as chief surgeon of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, was announced yesterday in a circular issued by General Manager George P. Johnson, under date of December 31. The appointment was effective on January 1.

Dr. Oppenheimer succeeds Dr. C. W. P. Brock, who served as chief surgeon of the Chesapeake and Ohio for nearly thirty years, and who was retired on a pension.

It was at first determined to continue him in office and appoint an assistant chief surgeon to do the actual work, but this plan was afterward amended to provide for the retirement of Dr. Brock and the appointment of a successor with the full title.

The position of chief surgeon of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company is a very desirable, and carries with it a large salary. It is an appointive office in the gift of the general manager, although it is actually directed by the president of the company.

The retiring chief surgeon, Dr. Brock, is held in high esteem by the officers and men of the railway. His service has been faithful, and, until recently, uninterrupted.

Dr. Oppenheimer is one of the best known physicians in Richmond. He has been president of the Board of Health since it was organized many years ago, and directed its work before the department. He has taken a deep interest in health matters generally, and has devoted much of his time and talent to every phase of that work.

Accuses Husband of Non-support.

L. A. Culcic, twenty-seven years old, a tailor, was arrested yesterday by Bicycle Patrolman L. A. Culcic, charging him with failing to provide for her.

CAPTURE TWO WOMEN IN REVENUE RAID

Big Force Descends on Louisa Brandy Belt and Brings Prisoners to Jail.

One of the largest raiding parties ever dispatched from the internal revenue office here swooped down upon the suspected neighborhood in Louisa County yesterday and captured two alleged illicit distillers and a quantity of brandy. The two prisoners, T. N. Anthony and H. T. Harris, were arrested near Buckner's and were brought to Richmond last night by Deputy United States Marshal Gilmore and lodged in the Henrico County Jail.

The raid was the direct result of the finding of a dozen barrels of untaxed brandy in an outhouse near Jackson, Louisa County, several days ago. An aged negro woman stumbled upon the illicit booty and reported the matter to a lawyer, who happened to have been at one time the Commonwealth's attorney of Louisa. The twelve barrels were once seized by revenue men, and following a preliminary investigation, a wholesale raid was ordered.

The combined forces of Collector Lowry, Revenue Agent Chapman and Marshal Smithers made up the raiding party. In it were Deputy Marshal Gilmore, Deputy Collector C. R. Coleman, Deputy Collector W. T. Dolan, Deputy Collector of the first lot of illicit brandy on the premises of Anthony and Harris. When the revenue party arrived unheralded yesterday at Anthony's place no time was given to conceal men or brandy. Anthony asserted that he had no hand in the making of the brandy, and that it was merely stored on his place.

CHAMBER HONORS ITS PRESIDENT

Officers and Directors Give Carrington Handsome Silver Service.

T. M. Carrington, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was the guest of honor last night at a dinner in the oak room of the Jefferson Hotel given by the officers and directors of the chamber. The dinner was intended to celebrate the completion by Mr. Carrington of two full years in office and was made the occasion for the presentation of a very handsome five-piece silver service and a large silver platter, Augustus Royall, Mr. Carrington's two sons, and the former presidents of the chamber were the only guests. Fifty-two men sat down to dinner.

The five-piece in the service were marked with an old English C, and the platter bore the following inscription: "Presented to T. M. Carrington, president of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, 1912-13. The officers and board of directors during his administration have presented this testimonial to his leadership ability as an officer, his public spirit and worth as a citizen, his character as a man, and his loyalty and devotion as a friend."

During the old-fashioned family dinner, the silver service was presented in the center of the table under a blanket of roses. At a signal from Judge George L. Christian, who made the presentation, two speeches and a large silver platter, Augustus Royall, Mr. Carrington's two sons, and the former presidents of the chamber were the only guests. Fifty-two men sat down to dinner.

Christian, who made the presentation, two speeches and a large silver platter, Augustus Royall, Mr. Carrington's two sons, and the former presidents of the chamber were the only guests. Fifty-two men sat down to dinner.

During the old-fashioned family dinner, the silver service was presented in the center of the table under a blanket of roses. At a signal from Judge George L. Christian, who made the presentation, two speeches and a large silver platter, Augustus Royall, Mr. Carrington's two sons, and the former presidents of the chamber were the only guests. Fifty-two men sat down to dinner.
